CHINESE COLONY IN OBION CO., TENN.

It is Said Asiatics Will Carry on Extensive Trunking.

The following dispatch from Union City was in the Memphis Commercial Appeal of Monday:

A deed was registered yesterday in the register's office of Obion County from Mrs. Ella Morris of Union to a Chinese gardening colony, conveying 160 acres of land in Union County, one mile west of Trebble, and known as Peppermint Ridge, for a consideration of $100. This tract of land has long been known as one of the finest farms in Tennessee and took its name 50 years ago from the immense poplar trees that grew on it.

Fifty Chinese families from Colorado all skilled gardeners and truck growers will take possession June 1, 1923, and a village, known as Union, will be established. The land will be cultivated in tomatoes, beans, lettuce, peas, asparagus, cabbage, onions and many other vegetables, and a good part will be put in strawberries, blackberries and grapes and other small fruits.

Strawberries in this immediate section ship better than other berry grown in the United States, and this fact is generally known in the large cities where local products are shipped.

The land is on a fine road one mile from Trebble, and the Illinois Central railroad, which offers every facility for shipping these products by freight or express. The company will establish on the land or at Trebble a large canning factory and pickling, preserving and canning plant to take care of the vegetables and fruits that are not shipped to northern and eastern markets. These gardens will be visited by people from this entire section, who are very much interested in the development of the county as a truck growing section along with other lines of diversification and who will welcome as a great benefit to the country the establishing of this enterprise.

Mrs. Elmer Tibbs and little daughter of Akron, Ohio, were the guests of her sister, Mrs. Vernon Jones, last week.

Miss Orie Morris, of Hickory, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jones.

Miss Mervil Williams, of Cuba, Ky., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wittle Tritton.

They are GOOD!

Great Desire for Understanding.
I believe that the greatest desire of every human heart in the world is just this: The desire to understand its own experience. That is a hunger that is at the root of all the great religious in the world—or all great emotional activity whatever—the continual hunger of the human heart to get even with its own experience, to put it straight and ordered, so that it can understand instead of being bewildered.—John Drinkwater.

V. READING DIAGRAMS

Most people who have not made a study of radio telephony or other branches of science are puzzled when they look at the diagrams which are used in many books, magazines or catalogs. These diagrams show the various symbols or signs marked by lines or letters and, to the uninitiated, they are quite puzzling. But very often you can learn what the various symbols mean if you look at the accompanying explanatory material. In the accompanying diagram, Fig. 8, symbols are shown which are used in wireless telephony. The symbols of various types of batteries are shown and also the symbols for resistances, inductance, variable condensers, switches, jacks, etc. The symbols for various types of valves and rectifiers are also shown. In actual practice it is a great advantage to know the meanings of these symbols. For instance, in the industry of the telephone I have given the wires are shown in the form of grains, but in actual practice it is a great advantage to know the meaning of wire structures at right angles. For instance, in the industry of the telephone I have given the wires are shown in the form of

Members of the Business Men's League and their guests enjoyed a big barbecue dinner at the regular monthly meeting of the organization which was held Thursday night at the Stratford garage, attended by about 100 members of the organization. The menu of the dinner, which was prepared by Wash Langdale, whose reputation as a barbecue chef is county wide, was furnished entirely by members of the organization.

Although the regular term of Circuit Court ended Monday, two cases have been disposed of thus far. One case of interest which has been delayed is that of George W. Langdale of Fulton, who was fined $50 for allowing steers to run on the levee during the high water. The act was not a deliberate one on Judge Langdale's part. It appearing that he was at fault largely because he did not have a sufficient number of men in charge of a large drove of hogs, and that as a result his hogs ran on the levee, which was then being patrolled, causing charges to be filed for allowing stock to run at large, instead of one or two more serious federal charges.

FEEDERS AVOID HEAVY LOSS

Cattle Cost Studies in Corn Belt Show Losses Are Small When Roughages Are Used.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Cost figures on 29,217 head of beef cattle fed in five corn belt states, summarized in a statement issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, show that scattering droves made good profits last season. In spite of the fact that there was an average loss of $20.87 per steer, Department investigators note the fact that some of those drovers made profits under the most adverse conditions, as exemplified by the extreme responsibility of wintering the details of feeding and management in sheep pastures to the cattle raisers.

The readers in the areas visited who made the most money, generally, in general, are those raising cattle in Illinois and Indiana, where a diet of corn protein meal, mixed hay and turnips, the latter with some straw and rubber. In Nebraska and Iowa, the diet is a mixture of corn and alfalfa hay, while in Michigan it consists of a combination of hay and rubber. In the case of some of the cattle raised in the south, were flattened on "The average cost of $20.87 per head," says the department, "feeders can still afford to profit in the light of the fact that all losses were charged to the entire cost of feed, prices for cattle grain, feed and store prices, etc., being deducted." The effect of the low prices for the first half of the season was in some measure offset by the return from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds of market cattle, which brought the average steer in the different localities.

An arrangement was made today of the purchase of the printing business of Ben F. Brings, by H. M. Crain, who will take charge on August 1st. Mr. Crain is a young man and a private printer and experienced business man.

Mr. Brings is one of the oldest and best known printers and newspaper men in Western Kentucky. He has been in the printing business since the year 1886, in this city, and has thoroughly established himself in the minds and hearts of all. He retires from business on account of his health, which has not been the best for the past few months.

The printing profession as well as the business concerns of the city will be sorry to lose from their ranks men they hold in such high esteem Mayfield Messenger.

HOUSES NOW SHOT FROM GUN

Concrete Construction Surely May Be Said to Have Reached the Limit in This Idea.

"Shooting" houses out of a "gun" is the latest wrinkle in concrete construction writes Cleveland Gaines in Popular Mechanics Magazine. The gun consists of a nozzle like affair at the end of a 3-inch hose. Dry concrete is put into a container and water forced through it. The mixture is thus made at the last moment before it is applied.

In building the first of the houses in this fashion a one-sided framework of tar paper and chicken wire was erected. Iron reinforcing rods were placed against this and the concrete shot against it with the use of a gun. A wall two inches thick was "shot" in this way, allowed to dry, and the tar paper and chicken wire peeled off. The result was a solid concrete wall. Doors, windows and plumbing were put in place and the wall shot around them.

In similar fashion ceilings, floor, a fence around the yard and other parts of the house and yard were shot. Seats were shot into the wall at one place, decorative designs in another, and so on. The resulting house and yard was a complete home in one piece—a monolith.

The second house built with the gun employed wallboard in place of tar paper and chicken wire, with even better results.

HEALTH NOTES

The following letter was received by Dr. Hubbard from the State Board of Health Saturday:

Acting upon the authority conferred upon me by law, the State Board of Health calls your attention to a widespread epidemic of rabies in dogs in the state. From counties in almost every section of the state, men, women and children have been bitten by mad dogs and once live stock has been similarly bitten and destroyed.

In order to prevent a widespread epidemic of this very dangerous disease, this Board requests you to immediately issue such instructions to your subordinates as will cause them to destroy, as rapidly as possible all stray dogs roaming at large in any part of your jurisdiction. There are now more than sixty individuals taking the treatment for bites from rabid animals at the office of this Board in Louisville and more than twice as many other persons being treated by their physicians at home. This is a wholly unnecessary expense and furnished to rid every town of the state of stray dogs will indeed help to reduce the danger.

All dogs should be considered stray dogs which are at large unimmunized for more than six days after publication of this notice in local papers.

Given under our hands and the seal of the Board at Louisville, this day of July, 1922.

L. T. McMurry, President.

Who Remembers "Butter Daisies?"
A government steers was heard bemoaning those lost daigies of his youth.

"I have eaten all the modern candies," he said. "Yes, sir, all the chocolates and the milk chocolate, and the fudges, and the nut candies, and the sort with a cherry to jump out at you and all that."

"They are very nice, but none of them approaches the delicious flavor of the old butter daisies. I remember how I used to get a nickel, run to the corner store and invest in a bag of butter daisies."

"Such yellow cones they were, that melted in your mouth much as the fat center of the gods was supposed to do. No sir, I haven't tasted a butter daisy in 20 years."—Washington Daily.

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price ranges from 20 to 25% less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4½-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient grotto-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long-discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

GOT HUBBY AT A BARGAIN

Most Girls Would Consider Transaction Worth the Expenditure Involved in the Case.

A business man who wanted a bookkeeper stated his need in an advertisement. The notice was seen by a young woman who was out of work and who had searched for employment day after day without success. She had just one cent left. This she spent for a postal card, on which she wrote a reply to the advertisement and dropped the card in a street letter box.

Her application impressed the business man favorably, and he wrote to her asking her to call at his office. She did so and secured the position. Her modesty and worth, no less than her capability, so won her employer that before many months had passed he offered her his heart and hand and she accepted and became his wife.

"And to think," he said one day during the honeymoon, "that it all came from your spending your last cent for a postal card and mailing it at a street corner!"

"Yes," she replied with a smile and a blush. "I dropped a penny in the slot and got a husband."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

FRENCH HOLD TO NEST EGGS

Almost Every Household Has Some Kind of Hoard Stowed Away for an Emergency.

To arrive at the undoubted financial strength of France you must first understand that in every country there are two kinds of usual life. One pertains to government income and expenditure, the other to what might be called private money that is, the resources of the citizens. A country may be broke and at the same time have immense potential wealth.

This is precisely what is happening in France. Government finance is riding on a rocky road, but the great mass of the people still have their nest eggs. Thrift, as every one knows, is instinct with the French. Those who have had experience with French penuriousness maintain that the French male of thrift a vice.

Save for investment in government bonds the average French man or woman delights to keep his or her fortune in actual cash. During the war they risked death to go back to their homes to dig up their precious hoards. The result is that France has more real gold and silver stored away in stockings and old pots than any other country. Government financial crises may come and go, but this huge reservoir of savings—the bulwark of the nation—goes on forever.—Isaac G. Marossian in the Saturday Evening Post.

Practical Deduction.
Antoinette, who is six, has a charming mother who sings very beautifully. Since babyhood Antoinette has delighted in listening. The other evening the southern girl was a dinner guest.

When Antoinette's mother sang "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny" in the mellow dialect of the South, the southern girl felt the tears creeping into her eyes. Antoinette piped up, "Mother, is it a little baby that wants to go back to Virginny?"

"Why, no, darling," the mother answered. Then, glancing at the southern girl, "It is someone who loves that state, dear. It's her home—She wants to go back—Someone like auntie. You know she comes from the South."

Antoinette looked askance at the southern girl. "Well, why don't she walk back? Only babies get carried—Chicago Journal.

Beyond Compass of One Mind.
Prof. J. J. Sylvester, the English mathematician, who died in 1897, is said to have been the last man who ever thoroughly familiarized himself with all branches of mathematics as known in his day. The subject is now so vast that no human mind could possibly master the whole of it.

POLLY

SUCCESS IN HATCHING EGGS

Care and Attention to Detail Are What Makes One Man Success Where Another Fails.

(Prepared by the French Patent Department)

Between raising or raising birds in raising chickens there is a narrow margin. Careless, it costs a great deal; indeed, no single road leads to success in this work. Care and attention to detail are what makes one man succeed while another fails with similar equipment and methods.

The following directions in combination are given by the French Department of Agriculture:

Have everything ready prepared and start your hatching operations early in the year.

A well ventilated room is the best place to incubate the eggs.

The incubator should be well regulated according to the number of eggs.

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling it with eggs. Turn the 41 eggs to a new temperature after the second and throughout the seventh day. Count the eggs every day according to the incubator, from the seventh through the eighteenth day.

Turn the eggs before caring for the lamp.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wires clean.

Test the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days.

Do not open the machine after the Care Is the Keynote of Success in Hatching Eggs.

eighteenth day until the chickens are hatched.

Eggs saved for hatching purposes should not be subjected to high or low temperatures.

In cold weather place from 10 to 13 eggs under the hen; in warm weather from 13 to 15.

Always try the hen on chins or nest eggs before settling good eggs.

Given proper care and attention the hen is the most valuable incubator for the farmer.

Use insect powder freely to exterminate lice when necessary.

February, March, April, and May are the best months for hatching, depending on the section of the country.

If several hens are set in one room, it is desirable to confine them to their nests.

Straw and hay make good nesting material.

Broody hens should be moved to the permanent sitting nest at night.

While corn is a good food for sitting hens, water, grit, and dust baths should also be provided.

All eggs should be tested by the seventh day, which often makes it possible to reset some of the hens.

Which Hens to Keep

Strong, healthy, vigorous hens with short, neat heads and strong beaks.

The hens with long, deep, rectangular bodies and parallel top and bottom lines.

The hens with large, bright eyes, active appearance and short, well-worn toe nails.

The hens with dusty, worn feathers, especially worn tail feathers, but having a bright, healthy look.

The hens that molt late and those that molt rapidly.

The noisy, happy, friendly hens.

The early risers and those late to roost.

The vigorous hens with the faded beaks and shanks.

The hens with the thin pelvic bones spread wide apart.

The early-hatched, well-grown pullets.

Large, strong, active, quick-maturing cockerels of desired variety type and high-producing mothers.

Cheese Jelly Salad.—Mix one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water and let it dissolve in a dish of hot water; add a grating of lemon rind and one and three-fourths cupfuls of ginger ale. Turn into small molds to chill and set. Serve very cold on heart leaves of lettuce with either French or mayonnaise dressing, to a cup of which is added three tablespoonsfuls or more of paprika and a teaspoonful of powdered sugar. Whirl the cream, add the lemon juice gradually. Place the bananas on lettuce and serve with the dressing poured over them.

Blackstone Dressing.—Take four tablespoonsfuls each of mayonnaise and whipped cream, two tablespoonsfuls each of chili sauce, tomato catsup and vinegar. Roquefort cheese may be added if desired.

Ginger Ale Salad.—Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water and let it dissolve in a dish of hot water; add a grating of lemon rind and one and three-fourths cupfuls of ginger ale. Turn into small molds to chill and set. Serve very cold on heart leaves of lettuce with either French or mayonnaise dressing, to a cup of which is added three tablespoonsfuls or more of cocktail sauce.

Cheese Jelly Salad.—Mix one-half cupful of grated cheese with a cupful of whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper and add one table-spoonful of gelatin dissolved in a scant cupful of water. Mold in large or small molds. When the jelly begins to harden, cover with grated cheese. Serve with French dressing to which grated cheese has been added. Tomatoes stuffed with cream cheese jelly and served on lettuce with French dressing are savory and quickly prepared.

Tomato Salad.—Cut fresh tomatoes peeled, into eighths, without separating the sections. Sprinkle with pearl onions and French dressing and chopped green pepper.

Terms of sale.—The above sale will be made for cash in hand due upon the acceptance of the bid. Deed will be made conveying the title of R. R. Rogers to the land as it stands.

FARRINGTON'S WARNING

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Mine Workers, gives this advice to members of his union in regard to committing acts of violence:

"Acts of disorder and violence only stir the public against us and make bitter enemies for us in places where we must have strong friends. Acts of destruction may appear to the inflamed and angry minded, but cannot win any permanent success, and if victory depends upon violence, our cause is hopelessly lost. Already we are in disrepute in the public mind and threatened with legislation that, to say the least, will cripple our union for years to come. Indeed, the weight of it does not sink the United Mine Workers of America. Therefore, I appeal to you to enlist the help of the sober, thinking members of your local union and have them join in inculcating order and obedience to laws of our union and the law."

SPECIAL PICTURE

The executive committee of the Woman's Club has arranged for a special picture to be shown Friday, July 28. There will be a one reel motion novelty, "Red Riding Hood," especially for smaller children, a scenic reel, "Yellowstone Park," and a four reel picture, "Brook Atwood," adapted from Tennyson's famous poem, featuring Lillian Gish and Wallace Reid.

The pictures are guaranteed to be first class in every respect, clean, wholesome and interesting. For the benefit of the children particularly there will be a show Friday morning at ten o'clock and another at the usual hour in the evening.

IT'S JUST THE SAME—ONLY DIFFERENT

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel—only different. When a man gets into a hotel and finds something on the table which does not suit him, he does not raise hedges with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. He sets that dish to one side and wades into the many dishes that suit him.

It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly, and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grandstand play and tell the editor how the paper should be run and what should be put into it. But such people are becoming fewer every day.—EN.

STORY MAY BE TRUE

An exchange tells of a man who went to his grocer and bought three dozen eggs and had them charged to his already large account. The eggs he took to a produce house and sold them for cash, and with the money he went to a filling station, where he bought some gasoline for his automobile, so he could ride.

And now a school of coal mining has been opened. We presume one day of the week is given to instructions in mining, the rest of the week to intensive lessons on striking.
